

TRIBAL STAFF REPORT
SPRING FACT SHEET No. 2
Columbia River Compact

May 7, 2004

Purpose: To consider treaty Indian commercial fishing options for the mainstem Columbia River.

Spring Chinook Stock Status

The pre-season forecast for upriver spring chinook was 360,700 at the river mouth. Counts at Bonneville Dam through May 6, total 130,372. The counts have been declining since last Sunday. The total mortality of upriver spring chinook in Zone 1-5 fisheries is approximately 24,800 making the total run size to date approximately 155,172.

TAC met on today and downgraded the run size to 164,400 at Bonneville and 189,200 at the river mouth. There are 25 days including today remaining in the month of May. In order to get to a count of 164,400 at Bonneville we need to get an average of 1,360 fish per day. TAC still is no longer assuming the run timing to be late.

Non Indian Fisheries at the current run size are estimated to have a 2.5% impact on upriver wild spring chinook. All non-Indian mainstem fisheries were closed as of Thursday evening. The lower Snake River Sport Fishery closes on Saturday.

Treaty Indian Spring Chinook Harvest to Date and Projected Impacts
